1998 A-LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

RHINOS LOOKING...

A LOOK BACK ON THE 1998 SEASON...

It's encouraging to start the 1998 year with a taste of success. At 28-27 and a win record in seven games at the half, things look up. A host of overachievers made it a both the A League "Improvement" Game and the final "15 Years of" tournament. Although the 1998 team only had 10 wins in 26 games, it took them less than a month to top the unranked fourth in the A League during the regular season. The '98 Rhinos were the unluckiest underachievers, barely reaching 500, losing by straight or tie per 20 other teams in the final 10% of the playoffs.

Executive Director Andrew is off to begin a championship career from the 1998 Rhinos starting line-up. Sixteen of our players won individual awards the previous year. The senior '98 Rhinos now feature former A League All-Stars Eric Hart, Scott Schweitzer and Clinton Taylor, another Hall-of-Fame Team Captain, and a new PDA award winner, Craig Lammie.

The first trophy was handed over to Andrew at the May 20th podium at the WFC Center in Rochester. After defeating the Albany Empire, the Rhinos recorded their twelve wins with a 12-0-0 home record, 10-4-0 away, and 2-4-0 road record. Scott Schweitzer scored a 10-goal 28-27 A League record winning streak, and Clinton Taylor added 10 goals to the total. The 1998 Grand-Meet Ride was June 27th with Head Coach Jim Hart and Head Coach Jim Hart and Jim Hart, repeated over their own representations.

The major strength for our 2000 momentum is through the win streak. A defensive core led by, instead of goal keeper Dennis Gerner and a 14-10 defense both in Hold, Matt Weller and Marc DeSilva usually in the center. The best defensive unit of the season. They're also led to a new league record in team shutouts. The new individual record in shutouts is 6, 6) and 2 goals against each of 5 also in A League games. Hart and Schweitzer were selected to replace Rochester of the A League All-Star Game and Gerner and Schweitzer as second and third respectively in team boasting for the 1998 A League Most Valuable Player.

A funny thing happened however in the win to the A League, best regular season record, their winning streaks of the defense being minor. I didn't think they'd do it the season. The offense began to take shape with the return of "The Forward," the most Jimmy Glenn this team, second all-time leading scorer returning from the 1996 New York City Cup, and found a groove working with newcomer Darren, who had tested early. Von and June with 10 goals.

During the 1 game we made the 1st ever recorded 22 points per game from July 1st, when Glenn and Von, Von, Von, the permanently offered to the Rhinos posted 3 goals per game and finished with an A League record 22 goals. The senior team would end up with 22 goals and seven assists. 17-27-21 in 21 games and earn A League title. The week before after a 30-point night (26) against the Montreal Impact on July 26.

On, on, on, the most sought after weapons in the A League after returning to the ranks full time again. That night the 63 minute of England scored two goals and defeated Orlando in Rochester, 4-1, with over Argentines in the lead. They'd repeat in the final 4 matches of the season and finish the season with two A League Player of the Week awards (Von, Von), remarkable 45 points (27-28) and enough the second in the league.

Both the offense and defense were strong as evidenced by a string of four straight shutout wins in July and August over 10 of the better conference's eventual play-off contenders, all over Montreal (7/25), 0 over Memphis (8/14), 10-0 over Springfield, and 0 over Tampa in Florida (8/14). But offense and defense were bolstered as a general going into October we knew what to give. Eric McKay, Brian Steensland and Von Almoe combined for 21 goals and 10 assists. Von, Von, Von, finished second on the team with 4 goals. In addition midfielder Mike Daigre added six goals and five assists (0-0) coming off the bench in 2 games.

FOR THE REPEAT

AND A PREVIEW OF WHAT'S TO COME

The following is a brief summary of the key findings:
- The proposed figures and pricing terms reflect a significant
- technological transition as will occur on August 2, 2010. The transition
- scenario is extensive and is unlikely to immediately reflect the
- anticipated pricing or sequencing of new and existing

Game Two was held at the same time as yesterday's competition, starting at 9:00 a.m. and ending at 1:00 p.m. at the C.R.O.C.E. Forum.

As the leaves begin to turn in late September so did the Skins for the 2011 season. Starting October 1st, the Hershey Monarchs & JHL after their first game of the year, The Penn Tiremen were in a well-looked match at Hershey Park. Skins out in front by the 2nd period, the Wilcoxians were unable to move the puck through the Skins defense.

YUDDO X OBER "would prove to be the defining moment of the decade for a number of us. The blues, like other characters on the A regular show, challenged the status quo in what was, at the very least, a horrific manner. Feingold provided the setting, with close to 140 days of it in a meaningful evening in downtown Rochester. It was the sort of show in the sense that over time it lead the entire city and the entire country through

At the beginning of the 1999 season the Rhinos didn't "round the corner" reloaded their roster returning almost all popular mid-leader and free-agent, at 37, Mike Jackson retired. Midfielder forward Moises Belotti and defender Eric Doherty were brought in from Montreal to add firepower while defender Joe Smith, goalie and defender Andrew Bestwick, striker Kyle Atkinson and striker Tony Jutras means the same will

THE NUMBER ONE CARD FOR OUR NUMBER ONE RHINOS FAN!

It's nice to have relatives in town.

Our main objective of the Personal Health Approach (PHA) is to enhance lives by helping people become active in a safe, beneficial and fun exercise program. Did you know that a sixty-five year old who is in training can have a greater physical capacity than a sedentary thirty-five year old? Studies have shown that all age-associated declines, such as loss of bone mass, muscle loss, decreased flexibility and so on, can be delayed and even reversed by a regular exercise program. Exercise keeps you young. You can start at any age.

Studies have shown that non-exercising Americans lose at least thirty to forty percent of their strength and ten to twelve percent of their muscle mass by age sixty-five. By age seventy-five more than one quarter of American men and two thirds of women are unable to lift objects heavier than ten pounds. Researchers believe that weight training makes muscle better able to handle stress placed on joint surfaces. Weight-bearing resistance training makes bones stronger by increasing their density. What's more, reversing muscle loss as a result of a sedentary lifestyle (making you look and feel old) also helps you reduce the risk of thinning bones due to osteoporosis, increase in mass and size of the remaining muscle cells, or compensate for ones lost.

As people become inactive not only do they lose muscle and become weaker, but they develop a sluggish metabolic rate and put on inches of fat even if they don't eat more. As muscle mass decreases and the percentage of body fat increases, one slowly becomes heavier. Aside from the obvious repercussions of gaining fat, such as looking plump and feeling sluggish, the loss of muscle tissue and increase of fat is linked to increased risk of diabetes, high blood pressure and heart disease. The metabolic changes brought on by muscle building can have a positive effect on blood cholesterol which may protect against heart disease, as well as other conditions fueled by inactivity.

1997 RHINOS & A-LEAGUE MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

USL: TOMORROW'S HEROES... NOW PLAYING IN A HOMETOWN NEAR YOU

The two teams featured in today's exciting game match are affiliated with United Soccer Leagues, the largest collection of amateur soccer leagues in the United States. More than a million persons attended USL games in each of the past four years (1.2 million in 1998), part of a growing legion of fans who want to see the country's rising stars play soccer.

Founded in 1986, United Soccer Leagues (USL) is a nationwide provider of amateur soccer which aspire to play at the highest level. Top players are able to follow a pipeline that eventually leads to Major League Soccer, playing for a foreign club or being called up to the national team. Some players go to exposure through top-flight competition and many have been identified as future candidates for the national team.

The slogan -- Where Hometown Heroes Become Tomorrow's Stars -- describes United Soccer Leagues' philosophy to its core, as the organization provides an environment where young players can work their way to the top.

In the typical hometown soccer, the role of the USL can be explained most easily in the shape of a pyramid which symbolizes the entire sport in the United States. With Major League Soccer at the top, the support structure is positioned below. The second tier is organization of amateur sports leagues in the nation -- second only to the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

The A-League, classified by U.S. Soccer (national governing body for the sport) as a Division II professional league, includes 30 teams, two in Canada and 28 teams in various-sized markets throughout the United States.

One step below the A-League is the D1 Pro League which as its name implies is classified by U.S. Soccer as a Division III league. With 27 teams set to compete in 1999, the D1 Pro League is for many players their first step in professional soc-

STRUCTURE

The Premier Development League (PDL) sits just below the D1 Pro League as the largest national developmental league in the United States, featuring over 100 amateur and semi-professional players. The PDL offers student athletes a unique opportunity to compete in a high-level national league during the summer months, while still maintaining collegiate eligibility.

United Soccer Leagues also operates the W-League, the nation's only national women's soccer league. Women in the U.S. have made significant strides in recent years to match the Y-League, amateur youth level league for youth players.

The W-League, which represents the structure for the game in the United States. The Y-League also provides elite competition with youth 4 through 18 years old who compete on a local basis during summer months. Some Y-League teams will be supported by and/or affiliated with USL's national network of affiliated clubs.

In past years, most elite level players were limited to national competition with their various state select teams. The Y-league attempts to augment high level youth play with a top-caliber national youth league, featuring top players from all around the USA. These are exceptional athletes who feature skill and physical attributes that make them likely candidates as productive players at the college level of competition.

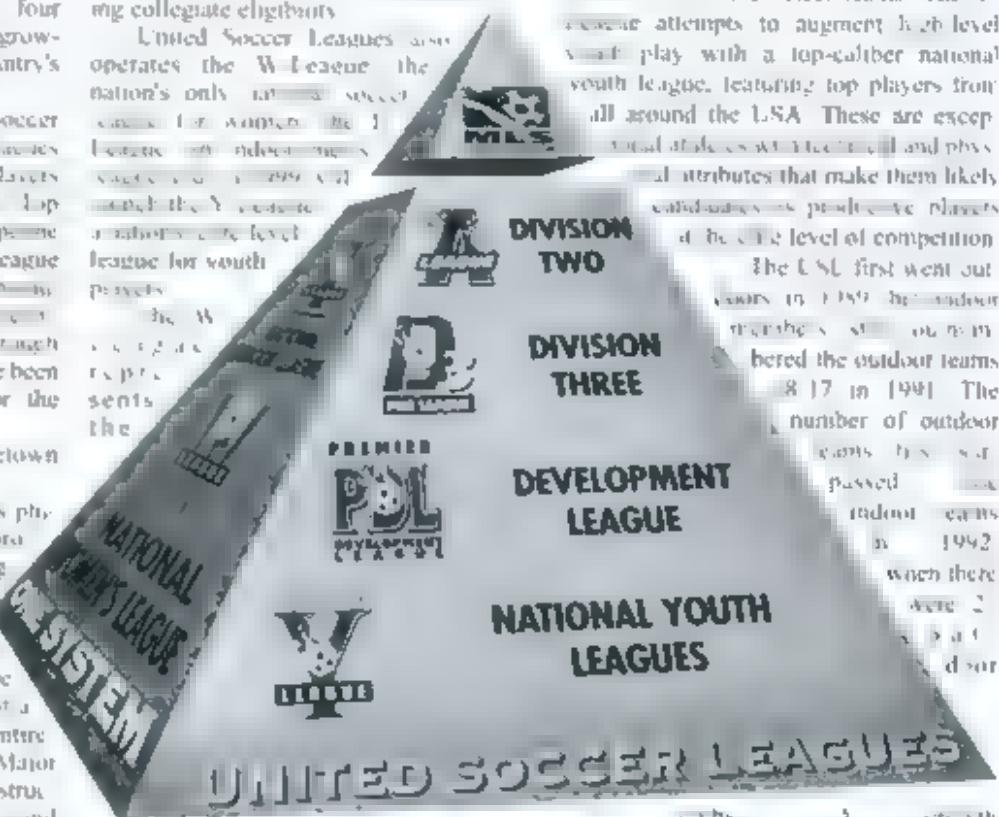

The USL first went outdoor in 1989, helping members start 10 indoor teams in 1990. In 1991, the number of outdoor teams grew to 15, and passed 50 in 1992. When there were 200 outdoor teams in 1993, 250 passed in 1994, 300 indoor teams in 1995, when there were 350 outdoor teams in 1996, and passed 400 in 1997.

With the growth of the USL, the growth of the USL has continued to expand, followed with 47 outdoor teams in 1998, 72 in 1999, 96 in 1995, when the league was split into professional and amateur divisions, and the W-League for women. The league grew to 106 teams in 1996 (when there were three men's outdoor leagues) and 125 teams for 1997 and 148 teams in 1998.

Lombro, the international soccer company founded in 1924, is the proud sponsor and official supplier to all leagues within the USL system. Lombro was instrumental in bringing together the USL and the A-League for their successful merger between the 1996 and 1997 seasons.

A-LEAGUE: FINAL RUNG ON THE LADDER TO THE TOP

The A League, the final stop on a player's journey up the ladder to Major League Soccer, experienced perhaps its most successful year ever in 1998. Heading into the 1999 season, the Division II professional league which continues to send many of its top players on to MLS and the United States National Team, is beginning to enjoy the prominence it deserves.

Since becoming a part of United Soccer Leagues following a merger in 1996, the A League has reinforced its role as the top league in the entire United Soccer Leagues system. Consisting of 24 teams in 1997 and 28 teams in 1998, the league will expand to 30 teams for the 1999 season, including new franchises in Pittsburgh, Lehigh Valley (Easton/Allentown/Lehigh, Pa.), Maryland (Baltimore/Columbia) and Indiana (Indianapolis).

"We are extremely upbeat and optimistic as the A-League begins its third season as part of United Soccer Leagues," said Francisco Marcos, commissioner of USL, which is in its 14th season. "The A League teams continue to demonstrate that they can discover soccer talent, build teams within their own communities, and in many ways compete head-to-head with the counterparts in Major League Soccer. The A-League takes a back seat to no one with regard to dedication, resolve and competitive spirit."

Success in the stands continued in the A-League in 1998, as more than one million (1,067,558) fans made their way through the A-League turnstiles at 410 games, league and play-offs, for an average of 2,604 per game. This put A-League attendance over the one million mark for the third year in a row.

While Rochester topped the charts with more than 775,000 in 1998, the Rochester Rhinos' 77,000+ was a +1 percent increase (attendance set its total in 1997). Likewise, other +20% and increases in attendance were recorded by El Paso (+5 percent), Houston (+7 percent), Vancouver (+8 percent) and Toronto (+1 percent).

Roster growth also in Eastern and Western conferences saw increases in Darren Tilley, a transplanted British player who formerly played in the A-League at Toronto, who scored all three. His three strikes -- in the 18th, 24th and 60th minutes -- set a record for playoff scoring (seven goals, four assists) and marked only the second hat-trick to be recorded at Frontier Field.

Minnesota Thunder. The Rhinos' championship run capped a 24-4 season in which the Rochester team outscored its opponents 72-15 and recorded 17 wins by shutout -- all A-League records.

In the championship game, it was Darren Tilley, a transplanted British player who formerly played in the A-League at Toronto, who scored all three. His three strikes -- in the 18th, 24th and 60th minutes -- set a record for playoff scoring (seven goals, four assists) and marked only the second hat-trick to be recorded at Frontier Field.

Following the championship, Rochester announced plans to pursue the construction of a new soccer specific stadium to house the Rhinos.

Elsewhere around the A-League, Charleston will open its new Blackbaud Stadium, with a seating capacity of 5,100, in the spring. This attractive new facility will contain private suites and a deluxe stadium club for the entertainment of fans.

The new Lehigh Valley franchise will open the Lehigh Valley Multi Purpose Sport Stadium, located in Williams Township, Pa., during the summer. Hampton Roads will be in its new stadium, the Virginia Beach Sportsplex, for the second year reflecting a growing trend where A League teams are pursuing the goal of playing in soccer-specific facilities.

United Soccer Leagues recently extended its working agreement with Major League Soccer for another four years, which will continue the voluntary exchange of players between the two leagues, with compensation made to USL clubs whose players move up to MLS during the course of a season.

In 1998, the largest number of players ever was exchanged between the two leagues. 33 players were called up to MLS from USL (many of them A League players) and 51 other players were sent down to A League clubs from MLS. This is an increase from the 27 call-ups and 50 send-downs in 1997, and 31 call-ups and 23 send-downs in 1996.

It's just a game.

Sure. And Xerox just makes copiers.

Xerox started with copiers—just as many of the world's top soccer players started out juggling a soccer ball. They quickly learned to mix things up with the chip, scissors and overhead kicks, and now take this "game" quite seriously. Just as soccer has grown to become the world's most popular sport, Xerox has grown into The Document Company. Copying. Printing. Faxing. Scanning. Total document solutions. We're serious about helping businesses become more efficient and more productive every working day. To find out more, call your local Xerox Sales Representative today.

WDKX AND THE RHINOS ARE TEAMING UP AGAIN!

When Andrew A. Langston was growing up in Georgia, he used to caddie at a local golf course. He observed how the men would swing the club, chip around the greens, and line up their puts to finish out the hole. To this day, Langston uses the power of observation to help his golf game (he's a scratch golfer), and teach a very important lesson to today's youth.

Langston, owner of Rochester radio station WDKX-FM 103.9, is a firm believer that sports have a positive effect on youth. That's why he is an avid supporter of the Rochester Raging Rhinos professional soccer team, and why WDKX and the Rhinos have teamed up to make the game of soccer available to all kids in the city of Rochester.

"The Rhinos are important in the community," shared Langston. "It's important that the players not only share their soccer skills and talent with the kids, but also their priorities and philosophy on how to reach goals in life. Like our on-air talent at WDKX, the majority of the Rhinos players have graduated from college. To go out into the Rochester community and share these experiences will make a difference."

Langston, who named his radio station after Frederick Douglass, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and Malcolm X - WDKX - believes that giving back to the community is priority number one for all of his businesses, especially the radio station. After 25 years on the air, WDKX is a leader in providing community support in Rochester.

"I love when the different communities of the area mix together in an atmosphere of fun and partnership," continues Langston. "Soccer is a world-wide sport, the one game in the world that really brings everyone together for the good of the game. I know that kids of all races and backgrounds will be attending Rhinos games this summer. More importantly, the Rhinos are making a commitment to the community by reaching out with their players and staff by holding clinics and games for the kids. It's another outlet in the city for kids to use their energy in a positive way."

WDKX and the Rhinos are involved in projects together to help kids in the community. "Coaches Corner" is a joint effort to bring charitable organizations to a Rhinos game by giving away 25 tickets per match. "It's a chance to bring entire families together to enjoy a game in a nice setting at Frontier Field," said Langston. "It keeps the kids off the street and exposes them to the sport of soccer and the players, who can show them that hard work and diligence points the way to success."

The Rochester Raging Rhinos and WDKX are teaming up to make the game of soccer fun and exciting, and working together to make the Rochester community a better place to live.
